“CALL THE EXPERTS!”

by Pastor Terry L. Reese, 10/17/24

Rom. 3:4: “Yes, let God be found true, but every man a liar.”

One means through which the empowered elites and specialists of our day maintain their controlling influence over the culture is through their relentless insistence that they—and they alone—possess a “scientific” knowledge and intellectual authority that lies far beyond the pale of ordinary, unenlightened citizens—and which is therefore not susceptible to review by society’s “deplorables.”

Such ruling-class pomposity was on generous display at October’s Vice-Presidential debate when the partisan CBS “moderators” blithely regurgitated the purported “expert consensus” concerning the alleged causal-relationship between human industrial activity and climate change—dogmatically demanding our complete assent to their scientifically unproven (but politically correct!) affirmations.

Offering an unsolicited lecture upon these matters, one moderator went on to suggest that there is definite “scientific consensus” that the allegedly increasing intensity of our recent hurricanes like Helene is the “direct result” of human fossil fuel consumption—a preposterously unverifiable assertion that not only lies entirely outside the realm of the scientific method, but which also flies in the face of compiled historic weather data!

But no matter: in making this assertion, CBS’s Norah O’Donnell appealed unto “THE EXPERTS!” The same sort of “experts” who would doubtless insist that human beings are descended from brute animals. Or that the Universe began with a mindless Big Bang explosion. Or that complex life forms on Earth somehow “self-generated.” Or that libido-dominated Freudian psychoanalysis is in some way “therapeutic.” Or that utopian neo-Marxian socio-economic-political constructs are somehow “scientific.”

As we peruse science texts written only a few decades ago, it is with no small degree of amusement that we find yesterday’s certain “dogmas” either completely discarded, or else subject to drastic remodification. How different from the unalterable testimony of Holy Scripture (Isa. 40:8)!

We recall Dr. Whitcomb’s application of Rom. 3:4: “Let every geologist, biologist, astronomer, cosmologist, archeologist, paleontologist, and astrophysicist be found a LIAR—but let God be found TRUE!”
